Interlibrary Loans

Can't find the material you need? Try the interlibrary loan (ILL) service, where you can access books, articles, and more held by libraries from around the world. Usually an ILL request is free, but some libraries do charge a fee for certain services. So how do you initiate an ILL request? We have two easy methods— 1) fill out a form online or 2) search the databases yourself and make the request.

1. To use the online form, go to the Library web page at library.fkcc.edu and select the first link under “Services” - Borrowing From Other Libraries \(ILL\). This link will bring you to a page with more information about ILL and an online request form. Simply fill out the required fields and your request will be reviewed and initiated by a member of the library staff.
2. To search the databases yourself, go to the Library's online catalog and select the Databases A-Z link. You will need your library card number and PIN to access this area. The last entry, WorldCat via FirstSearch \(OCLC\) is the link you'll need.

Simply search for the item you need (in the drop down box select the database: WorldCat for books, ArticleFirst for articles), select the “Borrow this item from another library” link, and fill out the form. The request is instantly transmitted for review by the FKCC library.
